Coot Season To Open Friday In Chain O' Lakes

Annual "Battle of Grass Lake" Will Begin At 7 A. M.

Residents of the Lake region and surrounding countryside will awake Friday morning to the rumble of shotguns in the hands of an estimated 5000 hunters who will be taking advantage of the special open season on Coots (Mud Hens), Rails and Gallinules.

Although the regular season on migratory waterfowl does not open until noon October 29, a special season has been arranged for, in Lake and McHenry counties by the Illinois Conservation department and a goodly supply of birds are on hand to make the opening day successful from the meat-hunters standpoint.

At 7 a. m. on Blarney Island Grass Lake, an aerial bomb, fired by Director Livingston E. Osborne of the Department of Conservation, will be the signal to "commence firing." Then, in the dawn's early light, will start probably the heaviest bombardment known on any opening day anywhere in America.

A staff of 25 law enforcement officers, under direction of Chief Inspector Robert C. Sparks and Assistant Chief Inspector A. J. (Tony) Spaulding, will patrol the waters of the two counties, to enforce the laws against the shooting of ducks.

Our special coot season will extend through October 12, with shooting hours from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily.

Director Osborne pointed out that the early season applies only to coot, rails and gallinules in Lake and McHenry Counties and that the regular migratory waterfowl season does not open until noon October 29.

The daily and possession limit on coot is 15 birds.

Sophs to "Welcome" Freshmen at Party Friday at A.T.H.S.

The annual party of "welcome" for beginning freshmen at Antioch high school will take place on Friday evening, T. R. Birkhead, principal, said that the party would not be an initiation.

A faculty picnic, scheduled for this afternoon, will be held indoors on account of the weather.

Juniors at the school finished the tests which were given as a part of the Illinois state-wide testing program for measure of achievement in general scholastic knowledge today. The results of the tests will be made known to the students that they may judge their achievement in relation to that of students of like age in other schools. The tests were given in two sessions the first requiring 90 minutes and the second two hours and fifteen minutes. Results of the tests will be forthcoming in about a month.

Antioch's fighting Sequoit football team will attempt to get on the winning side of the ledger, when they meet Palatine here under the lights on Friday evening, Oct. 8. The Sequoits have lost both of their games played thus far and are hoping to make a good showing in their first home game. They were defeated by Grayslake and Warren in their first two games.

State Bond Sales Up During August

August Savings Bonds sales in Illinois totaled $42,908, 298.

Series "E" sales were $30,587,085, Series "F" were $1,393,513, and Series "G" $10,927,700.

E Bond sales were 18% more than in August last year. Arnold J. Rauen, State Director of the Treasury's Savings Bonds Division attributes the increase to the purchases of the many new savers added to the Payroll Savings Plan and the Bond-a-Month Plan during the Security Loan Campaign.

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the Legion hall Friday evening. Final arrangements were made for the installation of District officers to be held at 8 o'clock this evening at the Antioch Township high school. A dinner will be served at 7 o'clock in the cafeteria. Mrs. John Horan will be installed as Director of the Tenth District.

Fred Bushing, 16, Killed In Crash At Wilmot Today

Son of Well-Known Salem Resident; Enroute To School

Mechanical failure, namely a sticking accelerator pedal on his car, was responsible for the tragic death of Fred Bushing, sixteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bushing, well-known residents of Salem township.

Fred, a student at Union Free high school at Wilmot, Wisconsin, was on his way to school and had intended to stop at a garage before going to school to have the faulty control remedied.

Paul Bairstow, who had accompanied him, was only slightly injured so far as can be ascertained, and it is believed that outside of a severe case of shock that he will be in normal health in a day or two.

His story of the accident, obtained by officers Shreck and Oetting of the Kenosha county sheriff's squad, relates that when the Ford pickup truck which Bushing was driving came over the slight grade to the east of the Fox river bridge, the accelerator pedal stuck in an open position, and that Bushing tried to pull it up with his foot for some distance down the road and finally leaned forward to dislodge it by hand. It was while he was leaning over to release it that the truck got out of control, skidded several times and finally left the road, going down the embankment on the north side of the road about 100 feet east of the bridge. In going over the embankment the truck tipped over one complete turn, landing on the wheels, and was badly damaged.

Bairstow's escape almost unhurt is laid to the fact that he realized that the accident was inevitable, and had laid down on the floor of the truck and hung on. The accident occurred at about 8:30 a. m. and the road was partly obscured by fog, which may have been a factor in causing the crash.

Dr. C. A. DeWitt, Silver Lake, was on hand when the sheriff's men arrived and had pronounced Bushing dead. Although no facts could be obtained as to the exact cause of death, Officer Fritz Oetting, said that the boy was badly cut and bruised.

Although the Bushings are residents of Salem township, where Mr. Bushing is Justice of the Peace, and well-known in political circles throughout the County, most of the residents of Antioch community were saddened by the accident, since the Bushings are well-known here.

COLUMBUS DAY

Two Weeks Only Remain In State Fishing Contest

The Illinois Fishing Rodeo has only two more weeks to run. Five more tagged fish were caught this past week, bringing the total caught in the Chicago area to 120. There are still plenty of tagged fish left.

Conservation Officers in the Chain O' Lakes area report that bluegills fishing is very good. Black bass are back in shallower water and are hitting plunkers and other surface lures in Grass Lake and adjacent waters. White bass are being caught on minnows in Kramer's Channel between Pistakee and Nipewisink Lakes. Lake Marie and Channel Lake are producing northern pike on Johnson minnows.

Fishing has been poor in Wolf Lake the past week. Calumet Lake is fair with some good strings of jumbo perch and large blueheads.

Prospects for this weekend remain good.

Tools and Other Gifts Received At Scout Home

Board of Directors Will Set Up Rules For Operation

In response to the appeal of scout home officials for tools and other things needed for outfitting the Anderson Memorial Scout home here, many gifts have been received during the week.

Harry J. Krueger presented the scouts a number of books, two lathes, a jig saw, drill press, four electric motors and a small movie projector. Keulman brothers will install a juke box and records and maintain the machine, which may be played at no cost. James Maples has donated a small wood lathe.

F. A. Swenson, a director of the foundation, will have charge of the wood shop, and several others have offered to assist him in the work. Swenson said that the things most needed to get the shop equipment complete are hand tools of all sorts and other machine tools. He added that the age of the tools would be no factor and that they would be as acceptable as new ones. Persons who have such tools may call Mr. Swenson or Howard Gaston, Antioch 43.

Other gifts for the home include the flag, which was raised at the Dedication ceremony on the 19th, which was a gift of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burdord of Channel Lake in memory of their son, Milton Edward Burdord. He was killed while serving as an M. P. on October 18, 1946, in the Philippine Islands with the Pacific Air Service command.

A beautiful flag which will be displayed in the main room of the building, along with the scout flag, was received this week, the gift of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Sheahan Brothers, who furnished the folding chairs for the dedication ceremony, have offered to let the scouts have the use of the chairs until such time as they can be replaced by the buildings own chairs.

Other miscellaneous gifts are books, pictures and other small furnishings.

Trustees To Meet Friday

Work in completing and furnishing the building will be discussed at a meeting of the board of trustees tomorrow evening, and it is hoped that rules for the use of the building can be worked out. Problems involving the raising of money to maintain and operate the building will also be discussed, and the financial statement of the building committee will be read.

A gift of $50 from Mrs. Alice Slack has been received by the Foundation, as well as a similar gift of $25 from Mr. Ed Beardsley, of Elkhart, Indiana. Mrs. Slack was a schoolmate and lifelong friend of Mrs. Anderson.

More Facts About Profits

If anyone still thinks that the retailers of the country are responsible for high prices—and the sporadic picketing of stores by consumers indicate that many do—they should study the facts and think again.

Several large food chains have published simplified reports on their operations. These show that, after all the costs of doing business are paid, the profit remaining on each dollar of sales is between one and two cents. In other words, ninety-eight to ninety-nine cents goes for supplies, taxes, wages, rents and so on down the list.

Now a retailers' association has issued a release on the experience of department and specialty stores, including both chains and independents, during the first half of this year. Dollar sales were up 5 per cent as compared with the same period a year before. The physical volume of business improved. There was betterment in operating efficiency and economy. Yet net profits, after estimated taxes, were only 2.9 per cent of net sales as compared with 3.4 per cent in the 1947 period. The reason is a simple one—expenses have kept on climbing, due to factors beyond retailing's control, and have taken their toll in profits.

The meaning of this to the consumer is certainly clear. If the stores made no profit, and worked on a straight break-even basis, the possible cuts in prices would be microscopic. It is a fact that retailing, taking it as a whole, is working on a smaller profit margin now than in OPA days. It is also a fact—borne out by a Congressional investigation—that retailing has been amazingly free of profiteering. So don't blame the storekeeper for a condition that is no fault of his.

Prosperity That Endures

Socialism, according to its partisans, is supposed to produce the nearest approach to an earth-bound Utopia, in which everyone will have more of everything, in return for a minimum of work.

However, in practice, even socialism can't rid itself of economic laws which have existed since man first organized a society. An excellent example of this has occurred England, where Sir Stafford Cripps, the tough-minded leader of the Labor government's economic program, recently told workers that greater production must precede greater rewards. He said, "There is only one way by which we can, with a given volume of employment, increase our real standard of living and that is by each of us producing more, or in other words, putting up our productivity. There is no other answer." He then said that a proposal for increasing wages by cutting into corporation profits made no sense, and pointed out that the profits amounted to next to nothing when compared with wages and salaries.

American labor, fortunately for its freedom and its welfare, has so far been spared from the blight of socialism that has produced inertia and boundless red tape in England. But Sir Stafford Cripps' remarks apply with equal weight to labor in the United States or anywhere else. One of the main reasons for inflation in this country is that labor has sought—and gained—ever increasing pay, even as large segments of it have by one means or another reduced individual output. A few labor leaders have themselves pointed to the dangers in this policy, and it is to their great credit that they have done so.

It may be old-fashioned to speak of an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. But the principle that represents was largely responsible for the growth of this country from a colony to the world's foremost industrial power in an incredibly brief period of time. We produced. We got the goods out in an ever-increasing volume. And we earned the highest standard of living in the world by doing it.

The theory of less and less effort for more and more money has been tried, and it has benefited almost no one. What counts isn't the number of dollars in the pay envelope, but what those dollars will buy. The responsibility of American industry is to give labor the finest possible tools to work with. The responsibility of labor is to make those tools do the best possible production job. Then we can create the kind of prosperity that endures, and gives everyone more of the good things of life.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

I see where in the check-up on loyalty to our fair land, that 2,110,521 Govt. employees have been found above suspicion. Around 619 resigned when the check-up got under way. The remaining 4756 are not sittin' so pretty—they are in for further study.

But the main point in my research today is not on the loyalty question of 2,110,521, it is on the question of where in the Sam Hill can Uncle Sambo find places to put 2,110,521, and have them earn salt.

We are a sorry lot, if it takes that many Govt. folks to keep us in line. But whether we choose to have these guys look after us or not, it cuts no ice. There they are on the payroll. And just last week I got in the mail, a list of 415 pamphlets for the farmer and his wife—all of 'em turned out by the slide-rule amateurs down in the Agriculture Dept. It is a kind of insult, I call it. Sending me 415 booklets, as if I was none too alert or able to run my own shebang. I resent it.

And these expensive and excess Govt. employees who have taken us by the hand, as if we were simple, to lead us into the promised land, they are nowhere near the front gate—Utopia and the golden entrance are still nowhere in sight.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

What to Do About Mildew

Mildew is a fungus present in the air. In hot, damp darkness, it develops rapidly, in cottons and linens particularly, causing a sour odor and grayish-brown stains. The older the stains, the more difficult they are to remove. Fresh stains may often be washed out in soap and water. Stubborn stains may require bleaching. For white cottons or linens only, wash in hot suds, moisten with lemon juice and salt, and dry in the sun. If stain is old, bleach with hydrogen peroxide. Rinse well. For any washable colored fabric, wash in warm suds. Old stains are difficult to remove. Avoid letting damp clothes stand in a basket during hot, damp weather.

Streamlined and smoothly finished furniture needs less dusting than the fancier styles of other periods. Furniture that fits down to the floor leaves no space underneath to gather dust.

Methodist Conference At Antioch Sunday

Rev. Ralph Hall Collis, Executive Secretary of the Board of Education of the Rock River Conference, will bring a group of instructors to the Methodist Church Sunday, Oct. 3. The talented group will be present at the Church school at 9:45 a. m. to observe the classes while they are in session.

Rev. Collis is well known in Methodism as a fine instructor and leader. During the church service he will preach the morning sermon entitled "One Year." This will precede the World Communion in which he will assist Rev. Richard G. Tuttle. Bernard Guillaume, Supt. of the church school, will offer the morning prayer.

Following the World Communion

Rev. Ralph H. Collis, Ex. Secy. of Board of Education of Rock River Conference, to visit Antioch Methodist church Sunday.

Service will be a pot luck dinner for the Church school teachers and families, Official Church Board and families, and all who may be interested in attending. All M. Y. F. members and youth are urged to attend the dinner. William Schumacher will be with the Conference group and will entertain the members of the M. Y. F. with community singing around the piano before and after dinner is served.

The Conference group are all trained and excellent instructors. There will be a teachers instruction program in the afternoon for all teachers and anybody interested in attending the afternoon session. Mrs. George Smallman, Conference Director of Children's Work will conduct the Children's Division consisting of teachers from the Nursery, Kindergarten, Primary and Junior departments. William Schumacher, Vice-president of the Conference M. Y. F. and president of the Southern District M. Y. F. will conduct the Youth High School teachers. Rev. Ralph Hall Collis will conduct the adult and administration session which will include the adult teachers, Official Church Board, Pastor and Church school Superintendent. Mrs. Collis will have charge of the visual education materials slides, records and etc., as well as the book and periodical displays.

Supt. B. G. Guillaume states, "We will begin the new church school year Sunday with the largest staff of teachers in the history of our church. This is a rare opportunity for them to receive instruction at the beginning of the teaching year. In fact, it is a rare opportunity for our church as a whole as well as our Church school. Everybody who is interested in Sunday school education and Christian learning should not miss being present."

But last year alone, it must have amounted to more than five billion dollars. That's how much fresh money the treasury's printing and engraving bureau turned out to keep the supply in good shape.

As if you didn't know before, it's easier to get rid of money than it is to make it.

The government keeps a couple or so thousand employees busy turning out fresh cash. It keeps one—a man named Edgar Gary Jr.—to shovel the old stuff into the fire.

Beekopers Honor Inventor Who Devised Simple Hive

GREENFIELD, MASS. — One hundred years ago a Congregational minister with a sweet tooth invented a "bee space."

Now beekopers throughout the nation have erected a plaque in his memory.

The inventor was the Rev. Lorenzo L. Langstroth, who devised a hive, shaped like a box, from which racks of honey could be removed and empty ones substituted without disturbing the bees.

Until his invention in 1848, it was almost impossible to remove honey filled combs without dismantling the hive and destroying the bees.

The National Federation of Beekopers associations says the simple invention made commercial production of honey possible.

Now at last, he could afford to pay his bills.

Traveling Zoo Brings Animals To All Children

CLEVELAND.—"Hey, ma, guess what. I just petted a skunk!" In most places that admission would cause anything from inflated nostrils to screams of horror, but in Cleveland, mother just says, "Oh, that's nice. The traveling zoo is around again."

The traveling zoo is one of three mobile entertainment units that cruise the city's streets. They bring a museum, a vaudeville show and a zoo to people who otherwise might never see the real thing.

The oldest of the three, the traveling zoo, first took to the road in 1942. The recreation division of the board of education, realizing that the park zoo is inaccessible to many people, decided to bring a capsule-sized animal collection to the people's doors.

They built a gay little jeep-pulled trailer with bright colored animals painted on it. It is equipped with cages for about a dozen small and relatively tame animals. A schedule of stops at playgrounds and parks was arranged. The sponsors fixed up a public address system, and got a lecturer to talk about the specimens. The zoo makes four stops a day, five days a week. During its season, 100,000 people see it.

Youngsters Hear Talks.

The crowd of youngsters, liberally sprinkled with adults, hears a 45 minute talk, consisting of stories and facts about the animals.

Then some of the exhibits are brought into a roped off "petting pen," where the youngsters are allowed to play with them. The zoo now is carrying an opossum, raccoon, duck, horned owl, skunk, goat, bantam rooster, armadillo, fox, hawk, rabbit, monkey and some turtles.

Of this crew, the fox has become the show trouper. He is a great ham, thriving on attention. He sits up and practically "mugs" at the throngs of excited children who crowd around him.

The Showagon, another traveling unit, played to its first audience in 1944. Also unique in this city, it gives five evening shows a week to an average crowd of 3,000. During its season, 150,000 people flock around the brightly painted truck, which opens up to an 18-foot-square stage.

Local Talent.

The talent is recruited through a series of auditions, held in the city's huge public auditorium. Most of the acts—singers, dancers, mimics, magicians—are teen-agers, although there is no age limit. They serve without pay, but are eager to hitch their star to the Showagon. Many of the acts have gone on to professional careers.

After the vaudeville show, the street is roped off and the band plays on for street dancing. A Showagon visit is a high spot in every neighborhood, and the idea has been borrowed this year in Denver, Colo., and Cincinnati, Ohio.

The "portable museum" is a huge trailer, which had been used during field expeditions out west. Visiting hospitals, orphanages, schools, homes for the aged and other institutions, it has attracted more than 100,000 people in the less than a year it has been touring.

After 46 Years, Champion U. S. Money Burner Retires

WASHINGTON. — The man responsible for burning more money than anybody in history is quitting it for good.

He is Benton C. Gardner, retiring after long service as chief of the treasury's currency redemption division.

For 46 years, his job has involved sending to the incinerator paper money in such bad shape it had to be replaced with new bills. During that time, he has sent so many billions up in smoke no complete tally is available.

But last year alone, it must have amounted to more than five billion dollars. That's how much fresh money the treasury's printing and engraving bureau turned out to keep the supply in good shape.

As if you didn't know before, it's easier to get rid of money than it is to make it.

The government keeps a couple or so thousand employees busy turning out fresh cash. It keeps one—a man named Edgar Gary Jr.—to shovel the old stuff into the fire.

Boy Prodigy, 10, Draws Cheers of London Audience

LONDON.—Maestro Pierino Gamba, 10-year-old Italian boy prodigy conductor, has taken London's most critical musical audiences by storm. He even has musicians cheering him.

At his first rehearsal at the Harringay arena, London, little Pierino moved imperiously to the three-step rostrum specially provided for him. He grinned down at the 75 incredulous musicians comprising the Liverpool Philharmonic orchestra.

Then with the assurance of a matador, the piccolo wielded his tiny yellow baton and brought the orchestra through Schubert's Unfinished Symphony without a score.

During the interval, the musicians loudly acclaimed this mite in pale blue shirt and short flannel knickerbockers. The three-hour rehearsal proved there was every reason to discount the skepticism which inevitably follows rumors of prodigy.

Critics fell heavily for this infant who peremptorily halted the orchestra, sang the phrases in his fantastic treble, and with vivid energy put them through their paces again.

The orchestra was taken into the intricacies of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony and, if possible, the piccolo's assurance increased, for this is his favorite composition.

The rehearsal was a complete victory for Pierino. The philharmonic's leading violinist, Manoug Parikian, was delighted. Comments ranged from "He's terrific!" to "we are amazed."

Pierino has been conducting for two years and knows 38 complete works by memory.

His father, Signor Gamba said: "My son started with his first music lesson on December 5, 1945. A month later he was conducting his first orchestra in Rome."

Critics hail the frail little Italian boy as the only genuine prodigy since Menuhin.

Police Honor Pet Dog With Drinking Fountain Memorial

SAN FRANCISCO.—A monument has been set up in Golden Gate park to Mr. Schultz—the only San Francisco dog ever to be a regular member of the police force.

Moist-eyed police unveiled the drinking fountain memorial on which is inscribed:

"Drink to the memory of Schultz today, His friendliness to man did him betray."

The dog, pet of every policeman from Chief Mike Mitchell to the newest rookie, was poisoned near park police headquarters.

Climate 'Manufactured' For Cigarette Wrappers

PISGAH FOREST, N. C.—Smokers may not realize it, but that wisp of white paper wrapper used in a cigarette is being made today in a rarefied atmosphere where every element, even the air, is controlled scientifically.

Enlisting science to improve the smoker's lot, Ecusta Paper corporation has installed an elaborate "climate manufacturing" system in its mill here. With automatic controls developed by engineers of Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company it is possible to keep temperature and humidity at levels best suited to processing, despite outside conditions.

Precise control is necessary to meet rigid specifications, according to company officials. Cigarette paper must be pure white and opaque. It must be about the thickness of a human hair, yet elastic enough to withstand pull of cigarette machines. It must fold without tearing, burn at the same rate as tobacco, must not stick to the lips and must be tasteless. Furthermore, a strip the width of a cigarette must support a weight of eight pounds.

It Takes 16 Years but Barber Pays Off Depression Debts

NORFOLK, VA. — Sixteen years isn't too long for an honest man to wait.

Carl S. Bonneville, a barber, left Norfolk in 1932, right in the middle of a depression. He had to sell his car for $75 to pay some debts, and he owed many more. He left town with $40 in his pockets.

Bonneville, now 71 years old and a resident of Selbyville, Del., is back in Norfolk, paying off old debts.

He went to the Norfolk General hospital, laid two $20 bills on the desk, and said he had owed it to the hospital for 20 years.

Then he called on a physician and paid him $200 for a knee operation, and settled a $90 note held by Arthur Bulman, who owns a barber shop in which he worked for 11 years.

After squaring a smaller debt or two, Bonneville had to call it quits. He couldn't find his other creditors. He had paid up $350 in all.

Since the year 1938 he has worked steadily and now operates his own barber shop.

Now at last, he could afford to pay his bills.

Workers in U. S. Mint Are 'Birds In Gilded Cage'

DENVER, COLO.—Once upon a time a bookkeeper at the United States mint here had a sour stomach.

This bookkeeper was doing something-or-other quite legitimate in the gold vault one night. He belched four times. Very fast and hard. The next thing he knew, an armed guard with a riot gun came sprinting in. The belches had set off a delicate sound alarm.

"It's just my stomach," the bookkeeper said.

The guard thought that one over a moment, wheeled and made for the door. Then he turned and stared distrustfully at the bookkeeper's stomach.

"Keep an eye on it," he warned.

Fearless Dog Saves Couple From Two Bears

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA.—A small dog, unawed by a pair of brown bears, went to the defense of its master and his wife, possibly saving their lives.

D. C. Walker, 55, of Kenai had his scalp torn off, his left elbow crushed, an eye injured and fane marks over his body. His scalp was sewed back in place and he is expected to recover.

Walker, his wife and dog, Boots, were returning home from Whitney cannery to dairy farms at the mouth of the Kenai river, where they are caretakers.

Two brown bears broke suddenly from the brush and charged. When 15 feet away one of the bears lunged for the couple. Walker pushed his wife clear, kicked the bear and then fell to the ground to play "dead."

The second bear then charged after Mrs. Walker, who ran back toward the cannery. Boots jumped into the attack and diverted the bear's attention so that it never reached her.

"I tried to play dead and keep under the bear's stomach," Walker said. "But the bear grabbed my head in its mouth. I could feel its tongue working over my head. Then he bit me. I reached up with my left arm to push him away. He crushed my elbow."

By the time Mrs. Walker reached the cannery and help, the dog's barking drew the bear's attention from Walker. The latter started walking toward the cannery.

Mrs. Walker collapsed when she saw her husband still alive.

Badly mangled, Walker was rushed here by plane.

It was the first report of brown bears in the area.

'Valueless' Oil Property

Vindicates Convicted Owner

LOS ANGELES. — "Worthless, eh?" said George Leingang in effect as he had his name cleared of a grand theft conviction.

Leingang, 53, of Bakersfield, Calif., was convicted in 1944 of grand theft after two men charged he had sold them valueless oil property in Cuyama valley.

Recently a rich strike was made there. Leingang said that he was now worth nearly a million dollars.

Furthermore, he said, he had paid the two men $4,500 in restitution. The court ordered the conviction wiped off the books.

Allan Cook Learns Quickly About U. S. Wage Minimum

SAN FRANCISCO. — Elsie Scheidegger, 28, has learned enough since coming to the United States to know she wants more money and shorter hours in her job as cook to the Berkeley household of Dr. Hans M. Huerzeler, Swiss consul here.

Miss Scheidegger is on strike. While she and the consul general and the immigration service figure out her status, Mrs. Huerzeler and her daughter and even the consul general are doing their best to cook their own meals.

Mrs. Richard G. James told Elsie's story to Berkeley police. The officers had been called when Huerzeler found his cook had moved to Mrs. James' home.

Said Mrs. James: Elsie was brought here by the consul general for domestic purposes. Elsie said she was paid $25 monthly on a 24-hour day, seven-day week basis, with free room and board and time off to go to church.

But she made some friends who told her all about wages and hours, particularly about a scale calling for $130 a month plus room and meals.

The immigration service, reminded by the cookless consul general that Elsie is an alien, ordered an investigation.

Woman Charges Dentist Pulled Teeth Without Her Permission

MICHIGAN CITY, IND.—A 59-year-old dentist was held on charges of forcing a woman to permit him to yank out 12 of her teeth.

Dr. Jesse R. Bennett said from his jail cell that it was "all a mistake" and then lapsed into silence. Police said he was unable to post $100 bond on a specific charge of assault and battery.

His alleged victim, Mrs. Margaret Agnew, 33, told authorities that her husband, Morris, 35, invited Bennett to their home to work on her teeth. She said the dentist arrived with a satchel of tools and her husband went out to buy liquor.

She said both of them drank and the dentist forced her to sit in a kitchen chair while he pulled teeth with reckless abandon.

"Every time he'd pull a tooth, he'd take a drink of whiskey," she charged.

Four hours and 12 teeth later, the dentist still had not given her an anesthetic, Mrs. Agnew declared. She said her husband was present throughout the ordeal.

Finally, Mrs. Agnew said, Bennett drank so much that he could pull no more teeth and her husband put him to bed.

Jap Department Stores Arrange Quick Marriages

TOKYO.—A war time phenomenon still going strong here is the department store marriage. Three department stores in this city will arrange a marriage ceremony with all the trimmings just as readily as they would sell a radio or new dress. Charges for the service are low.

The Takashima department store, for example, marries 12 couples a day and is booked solid two months ahead. Were the ceremony held at a Shinto shrine and followed by a restaurant dinner it would cost the bridegroom—he pays the expenses—6 to 12 months' wages.

Takashima officials have speeded up the whole procedure so that they now turn out a married couple every 30 minutes. It is a perfect assembly line layout. The bride picks up her kimono in one room, moves on to the next to be gowned and then proceeds to the hairdressing section and its eight way stations to beauty.

Meanwhile the guests wait in an anteroom and move on into a small straw matted hall, the copy of the inside of a small Shinto shrine. After the ceremony the party poses for a picture in an adjoining studio, eats dinner and then everyone goes back to their jobs. The cycle is completed and the next group takes over.

Brokers Get Rich

Mass matchmaking also is sweeping Japan. As a marriage broker a Japanese can become a yen millionaire overnight. Starting the cherry blossom season off with a bang was the town of Uji-Yamada, south of Osaka and near Mikimoto's pearl farms. Town officials invited eligible bachelors and unwed women from all over Japan to participate in a mate hunt. Fifty-five prospective bridegrooms and 17 brides-to-be came to look each other over.

The pay-off in the cupid business, however, came here when 3,000 people walked through a hastily built wedding arch to the muddy banks of the Tamagawa river. After this good look-see at each other they paraded through the streets with flags waving and placards reading: "Times Have Changed; Let's Get Married in a Democratic Way."

Leading the column and wearing striped pants and morning coat was Seido Mishira, Japan's most industrious marriage broker and the prime mover in more than 20,000 marriages in less than two years. Following Mishira, who is the perfect replica of the little man atop a wedding cake, were widowers with babies strapped to their backs, girls chaperoned by their mothers and hundreds of office workers and clerks.

Many Find Partners

Three hundred couples—or 10 per cent—found partners to their liking, according to Mishira. Each had a number and if she or he were too shy to strike up a conversation they could ask for a "number's" name and address at a registration desk and contact the party later.

Matchmaking in Japan is not new, Mishira points out, but he says the current boom is unprecedented. An "ad" in his magazine by a girl of 20, he says, brings 400 replies. When the girl is 25 there are 100 answers, and when she is 40 only 20 men respond. He adds that 70 per cent of the girls are most interested in the prospective bridegroom's pocketbook; 90 per cent of the men want beauty, and 20 per cent will marry an ugly rich girl. He concludes, however, that in most cases parents still make the final decisions.

Escaped Lions Thrill Circus Fans With Unscheduled Act

PITTSBURGH.—Three lions slipped from their cage at Forbes field to give an unscheduled thrill to more than 10,000 persons attending a police circus.

Just as a trapeze act got under way the lions ambled onto the field. The aerialists promptly halted their act and the audience sat as if mesmerized.

Circus employees carrying chairs and ladders hastily formed a circle. Scores of police moved in, their hands on their holsters.

The lions looked up swung their tails a couple of times—and walked right back into their cage which was locked securely this time.

'It's an Ill Wind That Blows No Good' Is Farmer's Proverb

GETTYSBURG, PA.—Owner's of one farm in Adams county must have good reason to believe in getting wind insurance on their buildings.

Three years ago wind demolished a barn on a farm owned by the J. A. Stevens estate.

Two years back the roof of the rebuilt barn came off in a similar storm. With it went one end of the structure. Again it was repaired.

Recently, during another blow, the same end of the barn came down, and this time, for good measure, half of the farmhouse roof vanished.

Cowboy Travels The Globe With Wheelbarrow

NEW YORK.—A very pushy fellow arrived in town and immediately pushed his way into the limelight without any trouble. He was Larry Hightower, who had behind him 7,426 miles of travel and in front of him a 103-pound wheelbarrow which he says he is pushing around the world.

Why? Well, as one of the spectators remarked, among the hundreds who gathered quickly every time Larry stopped to light a cigarette, "This is a free country, isn't it? If he wants to do it, who can stop him?"

Thus far nothing has stopped Larry, a World War I veteran and a former cowpuncher. He left Ellsberg, Wash., two years ago, and expects to finish his wheeling in 10 more years.

He has pushed the wheelbarrow through 19 states, Mexico and Canada, through rain, hail, sleet, dog days, two cyclones, ambushes by a lobo wolf and a cougar, 10,000 questions and six traffic tickets for speeding and going the wrong way on a one way street.

He Answers Questions

Larry took on all comers, answered questions with aplomb, delivered a brief health talk, and another on Americanism. He said he's given Americanism talks at 212 high schools and at Drake university and the University of Notre Dame.

"You sure look healthy," said one Arthur Brown, 60. "How do you do it?"

"Walking is what does it," Larry replied—a little unnecessarily it seemed.

Larry has a pair of earphones, likes to listen to his crystal radio as he covers his average of 16 miles a day. His favorite programs are of symphonic music. He's not interested in marches, and his most liked western song is not "Wagon Wheels" but "Home on the Range," where he hopes to be 10 years hence.

Outside Tucson, Ariz., a lobo wolf serenaded Larry for three miles. These wolves are "nasty fellers," he said, and he was glad when this one decided not to follow him around the world. Coming over the Sierras in California, a cougar nearly canceled all Larry's plans, and Larry himself, by jumping from a high rocky ledge and missing him by a mere 10 feet.

Carries Supplies

The wheelbarrow contains a kit of utility supplies with oil of wintergreen for rubdowns, a bottle of methallate for insect bites, soap, a foot antiseptic, shaving soap, shaving brush, lotion and razor. Also, a navy battle flag which saw Pacific action in World War II, the flag of the city of Cleveland, a flag of the state of Washington, with autographs by governors of nine other states, a letterbox for correspondence, a Bible, a jacket, a slicker, dungarees, maps, a tool kit and eight log books.

Larry wears a jacket with translucent red cuffs and collar and a red bicycle taillight on the back, for night pushing. The wheelbarrow has a headlight and a speedometer.

From New York he expects to go to London, then to Burma, Iran, Greece, North Africa, Germany, France, Spain, Portugal, California and cross-country again to Washington, D. C. "That'll total 28,500 land miles and the next fellow will think twice before he starts," Larry said.

North Carolina Cotton

Production of cotton in North Carolina during 1947 totaled 452,000 bales of 500-pound gross weight. This is 12,000 bales more than was produced from the 1946 crop.

Rise in Farm Values

Farm land values in the U. S. went up 7 per cent in the year ending March 1, 1948 to equal the record high point of 1920.

Game Warden Uses Plane to Count Colorado Herds

Pilot Cranks Loud Siren To Stampede Cattle Into Open

DENVER.—Dodging treacherous air currents capable of smashing it to bits against a mountainside, a small, two-seater plane ducked down to treetop level in a Colorado canyon.

The pilot, slender, 27-year-old Ken Milyard, cranked a siren. As the shrill noise reverberated between towering rock walls a herd of elk stampeded out of the timber and began milling around an open stretch of snow-covered slope.

Milyard stalled his light craft down to its lowest possible speed and circled the herd. An observer beside him counted the animals. At the same time, both men studied the range feed supply.

In five hours of flying time, they may count and classify as many as 1,500 big game animals.

Dangerous Work

This is thrilling, dangerous work. It requires the utmost in flying skill. The hazards are so great that several fighter pilots back from World War II turned down the job.

But this aerial project has given Colorado for the first time an accurate knowledge of the size and condition of the big game herds that roam its plains and mountains.

Milyard's surveys are the yardstick in planning controlled hunting seasons, so that the herds may not become depleted in one area while growing too large for the food supply in another.

In the first complete airplane study, Milyard and his assistants counted 287,000 deer, 35,000 elk, 7,300 antelope, 5,000 bighorn sheep and 6,000 bears in Colorado's high mountain parks.

Risks His Life

Milyard was in the air 400 hours, risking his life hundreds of times over mountain ranges where boiling air currents would trap and destroy an unskilled pilot.

But the information he brought back disclosed that Colorado's big game population is the largest since pioneer days—too big, in fact, for next winter's food supply.

The solution, says the state game and fish manager, Gilbert N. Hunter, will be longer open seasons—great news for the hunters who swarm into Colorado each year. They will be able to make a record kill without seriously depleting the herds.

Colorado began experimenting with aerial big game counts several years ago. Norman Kramer, of Alamosa, Colo., did the pioneering work.

Then the state bought its own plane and hired Milyard, a student of the veteran Kramer, to make full annual counts.

Motor Buggy, 1902 Model, Gets 15 Miles on a Gallon

AUSTIN, TEX.—J. J. Ruth of York, Pa., has spent three months trying to get out of Texas but he hasn't made it yet.

Ruth stopped traffic in Austin when he hit town with his 1902 Sears-Roebuck motor buggy. He has spent 13 months wandering around the United States in the ancient horseless carriage.

Ruth has owned the machine, which was purchased by his uncle in 1902 for $500, for 30 years. But up until 1947 he never had been more than 200 miles from home. Then he decided to travel.

"Curiosity. Just curiosity," he explains.

He has been traveling ever since, averaging 100 miles a day with a top speed of 30 miles an hour. The steering post is on the left side with a straight pipe for steering. The gas tank holds five gallons and "it is possible to get 15 miles per gallon of gas," Ruth says.

But the slow car, he hastens to add, isn't the reason why he can't get out of Texas. He explains: "It's just that I like Texas, and I like the people, so I'm not in any hurry to run away."

Farmer Produces X-Ray Photo To Prove He Swallowed Fish

ATLANTA.—E. E. Johnson had an X-ray picture to prove his fish story.

Johnson, 20, Douglas, Ga. farmer, went to "Seventeen Creek" to catch bait for a fishing trip. He waded along until he found four or five fish hemmed up in a cypress stump.

He grabbed a stump perch about four inches long and put the fish's head between his teeth, leaving his hands free to catch more.

The fish floundered and slid down Johnson's throat. There it stuck. Johnson walked home and his family rushed him to a doctor. The doctor tried to pull the fish out but succeeded only in pulling off the tail.

An ambulance then sped 220 miles to Atlanta where doctors at Emory university hospital pushed the fish down into Johnson's stomach.

Youthful Law Violators Show Gratitude to Judge

DES MOINES.—The boy and girl stood nervously before the judge.

"It's illegal for two to ride a bicycle built for one," said Judge Howard Brooks. "I'm fining you each $1."

Harry Gilder, 15, and Libby Wright, 12, stared down at their feet.

"But I'm suspending the fine," said the judge. "That means you don't have to pay it."

Harry and Libby looked up and smiled.

They walked from the courtroom together, but in a few minutes the girl returned and set a bottle of pop before the judge.

"You're a nice judge," she said.

Bald-Headed? Hair Is Not Much Good Anyway

Expert Says "Vegetable Growth" Has Little Practical Use

CHICAGO.—Bald men should stop worrying, a health investigator said—their lost hair wasn't good for much anyway.

Miss J. V. Sheppard, writing in the health magazine of the American Medical association, brushed aside such esthetic considerations as appearance.

She said hair has little practical use. She described it as a limp vegetable growth which, so far as is known, does not receive nourishment from the body.

Miss Sheppard also scorned the theory that a man who lacks hair lacks manliness also. Mere ancient superstition, she said.

She conceded, however, that some men may look upon their hair as an asset to their appearance. No cure, however, is known for the baldness that comes with age and the deterioration of body cells, she said. Similarly, premature baldness is hopeless, because most such cases are inherited.

For baldness due to microbes in the scalp, early treatment can prevent further loss. Miss Sheppard said microbes thrive on an oily scalp, and she recommended frequent brushing and shampooing as a preventive measure.

Instead of cure, Miss Sheppard suggested a "new philosophy" of baldness, in which men forget about its effect on their appearance.

Waitress Upsets Social Barriers With M.D. Degree

LOS ANGELES.—An attractive and determined blonde, who worked as a waitress so she could become a doctor of medicine is here to start her internship.

Dorothy Sell, 25, was a waitress in a Chicago restaurant. After years of study she received an M.D. from the University of Illinois school of medicine.

For years she had averaged four hours' sleep a night while she spent her "spare time" cramming for exams.

"I worked nine years in that one restaurant," said Dr. Sell. "You should have seen the look on the faces of my old customers and fellow employees when I walked in with my degree, prepared to go to work as usual." (She worked out the week at the restaurant.)

"People's attitude toward Dorothy Sell, waitress, and Dorothy Sell, M.D., was different, to put it mildly," she said. "One, a doctor, always had treated me with contempt. I think I forgave him when I saw how ashamed he was."

Dog Remembers Kind Doctor; Returns to Him for Treatment

CANTON, N. Y.—Freda, a German shepherd dog owned by a family at Hannawa Falls, scratched on the office door of Dr. Edwin B. Smith, a veterinarian here.

She had another batch of porcupine quills in her feet. When Dr. Smith opened the door, he could find no one with Freda, as he had on two previous occasions when her owners brought the dog by car.

Freda had walked 15 miles from her home to get the quills plucked out.

In addition to superintending, he teaches Latin, typing, and interests himself in music.

Coaches football, baseball and basketball for as many of his 24 high school students as are athletic.

Supervises the school's year-book. Oversees publication of the school's newspaper.

Acts as janitor when necessary. Helps ranches round up cattle.

Rides fences when no other help is available.

Occasionally fills the pulpit of the community church when the pastor cannot get there on time.

Free High Test Gasoline Irks Dairy Farmer

DENVER.—More than 6,000 gallons of high test gasoline, retailing at 30 cents a gallon, seeped into the water wells of dairy farmer Philip Schwelger, truck gardener Carl Stone and Mrs. Bonnie Perko, wife of a bus driver.

First the gasoline was just a nuisance. Now it has become a menace. It has restricted them to dribbles of drinking water from deep artesian wells which also are on their property.

At the Perko residence, gasoline fumes permeated the basement and forced Mrs. Perko to switch from open flame gas cooking to electrical cooking because of the fire hazard.

Stone said that the gasoline seeped into the soil of his truck farm and irrigation well, leaving his farm blighted with dull brown petroleum smears.

Schwelger, hard pressed for water for his dairy herd, said, "If the seepage isn't stopped, it might cost me my farm."

Nobody knows where the gasoline is coming from. State and city officials haven't been able to trace the flow and experts from two gasoline depots located more than a mile away said that they had not found any leakage from their tanks.

All agree that it can't be natural because the fluid tests as high octane motor fuel—with anti-knock compounds added.

The city fire department issued a stern warning that fires would be lighted at the property owners' risk after a minor explosion popped the tin roofing from Stone's well.

Tuner Finds Whisky Bottles, Cats, Coins Inside Planos

BOSTON.—An expert piano tuner said that you're liable to find anything in a piano—ranging from trapped cats to Scotch whisky.

Leslie Hoskins, executive secretary of the American Society of Piano Technicians, listed some of the odd objects he's come across—coins, clothing, rings, lockets, wrist watches and mice nests.

"Once I found six whisky bottles," he said.

Even neat housewives sometimes ruin pianos.

"They drop in moth balls—worst thing you can do to a piano," he said.

'Castaways' in Harbor Get Sympathy but Not for Long

BOSTON.—Sympathy almost burst the buttons on blue-coated bosoms when two bedraggled men were found clinging to driftwood in Boston Harbor.

The castaways said they had been in the water 23 hours—since their fishing boat sank.

A police ambulance rushed them to City hospital and photographed the pair as they departed after treatment for immersion. A reporter gave them a dollar for taxi fare.

"Yep," said Maj. George Mulcahy, master of the Deer Island House of Correction, as he later scanned the photos. They're William A. Grinnel of Portland, Ore., and William Strachen, of Boston.

"They escaped from the Island where they were each doing six months."

Pharmacists Shun Drug Store 'Cowboys' as Non-Spenders

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—Druggists no longer welcome the high school crowds who used their stores as hangouts before the war, according to the president of the Illinois Pharmaceutical association.

Labor costs have risen so much, Harold W. Wild said, that nickel and dime soda fountain drinks show little if any profit.

Druggists discourage lingering over drinks. Some now charge a minimum of 15 cents per customer.

Others use a more direct method. They are chasing the high school crowds out.

Wild said druggists are forced to keep a steady stream of customers to show a profit.

Wild has his own solution to the problem. He took his soda fountain out.

Baby Sitters Draft Code For Parents to Follow

FORT WAYNE, IND.—The parent who "rates" with a teen-age baby sitter is usually one who lives up to seven qualifications.

That was one of the conclusions reached at a "baby-sitters' clinic" sponsored by the College club here.

Teen-age participants in a panel discussion said parents should always leave soft drinks, cookies and magazines around for them to read during the evening.

Also important, they felt, was that the parents "have the situation well in hand, leave brief and complete instructions, leave a phone number, return when they promise, show appreciation of a job well done, and escort them home safely."

Idaho Police Chase Weaving Truck; Find Collie at Wheel

IDAHO FALLS, IDA.—Two officers, William Naef and Ray Jones, pursued a truck they saw weaving down the highway. It was quite a job to get the driver to stop.

Ready for a drunk driver, an argumentative driver, a sleeping driver, an inexperienced driver, or almost any other kind, they still weren't ready for what they found when they pulled the truck down open—a collie dog on the driver's seat, his paws on the wheel.

The vehicle had no other occupants.

Some time later, after a search of the neighborhood, the officers solved the mystery. Two youngsters admitted they had taken the truck for a spin, saw the officers coming and jumped out, leaving their dog to do the driving.

County Supervisors 'Pass the Buck' to Solve Legal Tangle

SUPERIOR, WIS.—It was a cool, sunny day and Douglas supervisors had no stomach for any kind of red tape.

But there was that annoying little detail of an $8 coal bill that had to be taken care of. The coal was delivered last winter to a relief client who since had died. Now the county had the bill.

It was a legal puzzle over what funds should be used to take care of it.

One look out of the window at the clear blue sky settled the matter for the eight supervisors. Each pulled out a dollar bill and clipped it to the relief voucher.

Ocean Plunge Is Safer Than Swimming In Fresh Water

CHICAGO, ILL.—The person who nearly drowns in sea water appears to have a better chance of being revived than a fresh water victim.

An article in the Journal of the American Medical association stated this conclusion after comparing the effects of the two kinds of water in the lungs.

Experiments at the University of Texas medical branch indicate, the Journal said, that in fresh water drowning, the blood of a victim may dilute as much as twice its volume. In sea water drowning, however, nearly a third of the water of the blood leaves rapidly and the other constituents of blood tend to concentrate.

The studies also showed that the heart continues to function nearly twice as long in sea water drowning as in fresh water drowning.

It's Fall To Us, But Spring To A Channel Lake Tree

Evidently either several months behind the rest of the locality or several months ahead, is a cherry tree at the Randolph Zahrosky home, Grapevine Avenue, Channel Lake, for the tree has lately come into full bloom. Perhaps some of the old timers who are able to predict the weather by observing the speed with which trees get ready for winter weather and such phenomena, may be able to use this oddity to good advantage, but we suspect that the tree is just somewhat mixed up.

Only Chevrolet gives BIG CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST PRICES

It leads in dollar value—and in all these quality features
—just as it leads in nationwide registrations!

First
IN RIDING SMOOTHNESS

Your own tests will prove that Chevrolet has more riding comfort! One reason is Chevrolet's Body by Fisher. Another, the gliding smoothness of Chevrolet's Unitized Knee-Action... proved and improved by Chevrolet's experience in building 6,000,000 Knee-Action units in use today!

First
IN VALVE-IN-HEAD PERFORMANCE

Chevrolet engines have delivered more miles, to more owners, over a greater period of time, than any other automobile power plant built today! In Chevrolet the valve-in-head engine (employed only in Chevrolet and in costlier cars) is developed and improved to top-flight efficiency!

First
IN ALL-ROUND SAFETY

It's a comforting feeling to know that once you have purchased your Chevrolet you and your family will have the triple protection of Chevrolet's Unitized Knee-Action Gliding Ride, Positive Action Hydraulic Brakes and Fisher Unisteel Body Construction—its all-round safety!

First
IN TASTEFUL BEAUTY

Your Chevrolet will command attention for its smooth design and its world-famous Body by Fisher. This most-desired of all motor-car bodies—available only on Chevrolet and higher-priced makes—gives you beauty-leadership as well as fine workmanship and sturdy construction.

When Names Are Coined

Israel or Israelite could as well be called an Israeli, in the manner of the Brazilian, Egyptian or Babylonian. He could be an Israele, following the form for the man from China, Japan, Siam or Portugal. Taking a leaf from the book of the New Yorker, the Asiatic, the Frenchman, or the Nazarene, he could be, respectively, an Israele, an Israele, Israelman, or Israele, notes the National Geographic society.

Modern Hope Chest

Although modern brides don't buy the large quantities of linens for hope chests that their mothers and grandmothers did, there is a minimum amount for each bed. The bride should have no less than six sheets for each bed and three pillowcases for each pillow. Of course, there is no maximum limit and every bride hopes for many shower and wedding gifts of beautiful sheets and pillow cases.
